A man wearing a red long-sleeved shirt and a white baseball cap is working in a cluttered workshop. He is standing at a workbench, reaching for a tool. The workshop is filled with various tools, including hammers, pliers, and wrenches, hanging on the wall and scattered on the workbench. There are also bottles of paint and other materials. The background shows a wooden wall with some holes and a shelf with more tools and materials. The lighting is dim, with a bright spot of light coming from a window or opening in the background.
